FULL SPEAKER BIO (150 WORDS)

Dr. Patlee Creary is a Winnipeg-based community engagement strategist, facilitator, social entrepreneur, and author. She founded The StoryBridge Network, a community-based nonprofit that amplifies marginalized voices and builds cross-cultural connections through storytelling and community engagement. Patlee also founded and operates Reyou, a consulting firm that supports organizations through governance, strategic planning, and narrative development. Holding a doctorate in Peace and Conflict Studies, Patlee brings a trauma-aware and culturally grounded approach to her work, helping organizations move beyond traditional meetings into structured dialogue where lived experience informs policy and social change. She is the author of Rebel. Mother. Queen. and delivers keynotes on stress management, storytelling, and human-centred conflict transformation.
